

E.J. JAXTIMER BUILDER, INC.

• Three-time award winner

E.J. Jaxtimer Builder, Inc. of Hyannis offers custom building, landscape, millwork and property management services, focusing on client satisfaction and high-quality workmanship with every project. Two of their exceptional projects won Gold at the 2018 BRICC Awards, and Head Project Manager Jonathan Jaxtimer was recognized for his talents.

Gold, Excellence in Specialty Projects Engineering, North Bay Pergola

In order to replicate the original radius wood pergola, designed by Nicholaeff Architecture and Design, that had fallen into disrepair, E.J. Jaxtimer worked with INTEX Millwork and Botello Lumber Company. Together, they created a unique pergola overlooking North Bay in Cotuit that's made exclusively of structural aluminum, stainless steel fasteners and cellular PVC. The stronger materials mean it is engineered to withstand wind, snow and ice.

Precision was paramount. The team credits Solidworks, a 3D modeling software used to draw all of the parts and write code for the CNC machines—saving time and money by using only one program. The software ensured all aspects of the custom pergola system were constructed exactly as drawn. “The project was a collaboration of talented people using technology and hard work to deliver a pergola that met the customer’s design expectations and will stand the test of time,” says Mark Ouellette, Northeast territory sales manager at INTEX Millwork.

Gold, Excellence in Garden Design, Hillside Garden

Working with a topography change of 20 feet from the backyard to the front yard, the landscape for this family home utilizes walls and sloped banks to form level areas for lounging and gardening. A set of landscape steps are incorporated into planted terraces, which creates a nice transition between the lower garage level and the first-floor front door. They also visually minimize the grade change and function as oversized raised beds for the homeowners to garden in.

The biggest challenge was getting the stones just right to reflect the warm sandy color of the Cape Cod beaches. “The homeowners had a very specific vision and, working closely with them, changes to the materials of the hard and softscape were continuously made throughout the project to bring their vision to a stunning reality,” says Jaxtimer Landscape Construction Manager J.J. Friel, who worked with Bernice Wahler Associates on the project.

Silver, Next Generation Shooting Star, Jonathan Jaxtimer

As head project manager, Jonathan Jaxtimer has taken the lead at E.J. Jaxtimer Builder, continuing his father’s legacy while bringing a younger dynamic to the business. Having earned a degree in construction management from Roger Williams University, Jonathan enhances the company’s efficiency through the use of technology. He also joins the Jaxtimer family in its belief of giving back to the community, continuing the tradition by volunteering his time with many local charities and associations.

“We truly would not have grown into one of the largest and most trustworthy contracting companies on Cape Cod, the Islands and South Shore without Jonathan’s leadership,” says E.J. Jaxtimer.
